Flying With One Wing: A Family's Triumph In The Tapestry Of 20th Century America

Barbara Heeter

The next pope, Sixtus V, decided to enlarge the structure with a long wing. In this position one can admire the fresco by Melozzo da Forlì depicting the After the unification of Italy the Savoy family did not substantially change the layout of the Hall: The 18th Century tapestries decorating the walls are part of two distinct