Woman In The Mists: The Story Of Dian Fossey And The Mountain Gorillas Of Africa

Farley Mowat

Deep in the volcano country of central Africa live some of the rarest, most intriguing animals on earth — the mountain gorillas. Here, in the mist-shrouded forests, Dian Fossey, a young American woman fascinated by Africa, decided in her early 20s to leave the world of college and marriage behind and throw herself into an uncharted and dangerous world to study a species she believed to be about to disappear. This is her story, and the story of the mountain gorillas and the mountain country they call home.
